WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 .- (By the Associated Press.) The outlook for the coming week in the Senate is very uncertain. It may prove a week of surprises, and there is a possibility of eaching an agreement whereby repeal will be definitely and finally disposed of, but the indications are that there will be no agreement till it become evident that the bill cannot be passed or defeated in its present shape. The only formal notice of a speech is that given by Senator Call for tomorrow. Senators Power and Dubois have privately expressed the intention to talk during the week, and Teller and Morgan will probably finish the speeches begun by them last week. The truce limiting the time for debate to seven hours per day expires by limitation tomorrow, Senator Voorhees said yesterday that he would make no effort to ter minate it. The Democratic Senators who are not especially identified with the administration are still engaged in an effort to reach an understanding upon a compromise measure, but are not making any progress. The Repubwho advocate have dropped out of the negotiations for the present. It may be stated al-most definitely that there will be no

CHINESE RIGHTS

The Dominion Government Not Inclined to Remove Saleguards. OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Several attempts were made by labor organizations of the Dominion to induce the government to impose fur ther restrictions on Chinese immigration. The government has just passed an order in council which practically settles its policy in this regard. The order, after reciting the circumstances which called it forth, mentioning that it is impossible to take any action infringing treaty rights, says: "In view of the commercial relations of Canada with China, it is not expedient to change the provisions of the Chinese Immigration Act, nor take any action that might be considered by the action that might be considered by the Chinese government as an invasion of the spirit of the treaty obligations, or as an unfriendly act. It is deemed im-politic and unnecessary to recommend the alternative expedient of raising the

The suggestion, it says, that every Chinaman or woman in Canada be Chinaman or woman in Canad taxed to the amount of $200 per year, said tax to be paid into the treasury of the municipality or city in which they may be found, is a question for consideration of other than government dominion.

narchists Fight With Manchester Police The Friends of Pallas-The Revolution in Argentine About Ended-A Count Killed.

En Telegraph to The Times BERLIN, Oct. 1 .- (By Cable and Asciated Press.) The newspapers here oday publish less favorable reports regarding Prince Bismarck's health. It was the intention of the physicians to remove him to his home at Friedrichsruhe yesterday, but the Prince was not in ondition to make the journey. The prospect of a reconciliation between the ex-Chancellor and the Emperor grows slighter every day.

It is claimed that the military attaches of the Dreibund are very much shown the cold shoulder by the French fficers, and, as a retaliatory measure, the military authorities here propose to withdraw all German military attaches from France, in order to force the French government to withdraw military attaches from Germany, Austria and Italy, who, they claim, are acting as spies. There are people, how ever, who claim that this agitation is the work of the militry party in Germany, which anticipates opposition in Parliament to a demand which will be made for an increase in the army and navy expenditures.

Meanwhile the arming of the legion of Europe continues, and the day of a general confiagration seems to be ap proaching more rapidly, day by day. In fact, there are people here who hint that there may be serious riots in Paris and elsewhere in France upon the ecasion of the visit of the Russian fleet to Toulon, for it is claimed that the "Firegreeker party" in France. that the "Firecracker party" in France is almost certain to make the Russian visit the occasion for a demonstration against the Germans and Italians, not to mention the English, against which country the ultra-demonstrative class of Frenchmen claim to have well-founded cause for resentment. The Russian government has anticipated these possible riotous demonstrations for some time past, and it was with the object of trying to prevent them that the Czar and his embassa-dor in Paris have been throwing cold water upon inflammatory France, and warning President Carnot and his advisers against the danger of being too demonstrative. However, all the warning in the world will not prevent the French from making a tremendous fuss over the Russian visit, and no amount of argument will convince the French people as a whole that the visit of the Russian fleet to Toulon is only a return visit out of common courtesy for the visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt.

THE ANARCHISTS.

The Vienna and Barcelena Discoveries Have Aroused Them. MANCHESTER, Oct. 1.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) A very lively and interesting fight between a number of English Anarchists and the police took place here today. The police have long been aware that Anarchists had ed a group in this city, and were holding meetings at irregular intervals for a long time. The Anarchists kept within the bounds of law and or-der, insofar that they claimed to be simply honest workingmen, meeting to discuss politics from their own stand-point. The discovery of the Anarchist plot in Vienna, and the attempt to to kill Gen. Martinez Campos, seems to have aroused them to a pitch of un-usual excitement, for they commenced making things very disagreeable for residents in the neighborhood of their meeting place.

This gave the police the desired opportunity, and a raid upon the assembly rooms of the "Reds" was made to-day. The raid was resisted fiercely by the Anarchists. They seized chairs and other pieces of furniture and defended themselves desperately. The police drew their batons and a rough and tumble fight took place. During the battle three Anarchists were so se-verely injured that they were taken to the hospital, and a number on both sides received more or less serious wounds. Several of the most desperate Anarchiste were taken into custody. The others managed to escape through the windows.

PALLAS'S ACCOMPLICES. BARCELONA, Oct. 1.—The approaching death of Pallas, the Anarchists who is to be shot next week, was discussed throughout Spain. The police are well aware that he has a number of sympa-thizers among a certain class of the population, and this caused them to make a most thorough search for proofs that further outrages were contem-plated. In the investigation the police found positive proof that Pallas had accomplices among foreign Anarchists. An Italian named Maveini was ar-rested today, charged with being an ac-

plot to blow up the House of Parlia ment, had a most surprising result. The facts in the possession of the police cannot yet be published, as a prime mover in the conspiracy has not yet een arrested. The police have established proof be-yond doubt, that the men in custody are only tools of an agitator, who is be lieved to be a foreigner, and his duper do not know much about him or the spot where he can be found.

SIAM SURRENDERS.

She Yields to France About All the Latter Demanded BANGKOK, Oct. 1.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) The final settlement of the dispute between France and Slam was arrived at today by the acceptance upon the part of the Slames government of the drafts of the new treaty, presented by M. de Villiers special envoy of France to the govern ment of Siam.

From this it is judged that the Sia mese government made an uncondi-tional surrender to France, and the latter county now has everything which she demanded from Siam, with the ex-ception of demands which were considered in excess of the ultimatum pre sented some time ago. The signatures of the new treaty will be affixed on Tuesday next. According to De Villiers, the French intend to evacuate Chantaboon as early as possible. Among the motives which led Slam to accept the convention was the honorable resolution of the King not to sacrifice his Danish officers, which demand De Villiere abandoned with a demand for reparation for the Pakeran incident. United States gunboat Concord has arrived off the bar at Bangkok. The Times correspondent adds that the treaty is most unsatis-factory, unless France fulfills her pledges. A cable message received by the Times from Bangkok says that yester-day morning the French gunboat Aspic was seen getting up steam in order that De Villiers might leave the city. Later in the day, under extreme sure, Siam agreed to sign both treaty and the convention annexed. The clause originally in the whereby Siam is to allow any number of French agencies on the right bank of the Mekong, and cede gratuitously all lands required for the purpose, was withdrawn, and a clause substituted which only demands facilities for navigation and agency work.

ALMOST ENDED. The Revolution in Argentine Practically Quashed. BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 1.-(By Cable and Associated Press.) The Argentine government claims to have received information today to the effect that the revolution in the republic may be considered almost at an end. It was announced officially that Rosario had capitulated to the government forces. All of the rebel leaders at Rosario are said to have been taken prisoners, and the rebels are reported to have laid down their arms. It should be remembered that this announcement comes entirely from government

KEEPING IT QUIET. .

Wants No Trouble Concerning DUBLIN, Oct. 1 .- (By Cable and Associated Press.) John Dillon, M.P., addressed a large meeting today at Ballymote. He said the subject of the Paris funds has been thrust before the public within the last ten days. He al-ways opposed public discussion on the subject, because it interfered with collections of funds for the Irish cause in America and Australia. If differences of opinion existed as to details and policy, as they must exist, they ought never to go beyond the room where the party sat. TERRIBLE STORM.

The Town of Jalapan, Mexico, Suffers from the Elements. SAN ANTONIO (Tex.,) Oct. 1.-(By the Associated Press.) By Telegranh to The Times FRESNO, Oct. 1.-(By the Associated ess.) When George Sontag's mother left here about two weeks ago, she was known to be bitter against the Evans family as to the way in which she was treated with regard to the money forwarded from Minnesota, also as to the sale of the clothes which John Sontag wore during the battle at Stone Creek When the report of the confession was received, the correspondent called on Chris Evans at the jail. Evans was taken into the guard's room and told that George Sontag had made a confesion with regard to the Pixley, Goshen, Ceres and Collis, train-rob-With a laugh that was not mirthful, he exclaimed: "Bully for him." He was eager to hear the story, and was noticeably excited. He was told that Sontag had implicated him in these robberies. "Who says so?" he asked. He was told that the news had been telegraphed from San Francisco, "Just say for me," said "that Sontag or any other man who says I ever robbed any train tells a lie from the beginning to end. Besides. Sontag hever made any such statement."

He asked to see the telegram, and the dispatch was shown to him. When he had read it several times he said: "I can prove by dozens of men that I was not near these train-robberles. I was at home. In no way could I get there without slying, and I'm no angel. This is on a par with that woman Mrs. Pride of South Carolina, who wrote me, since I have been in Jall, to confess to the murder of her son. Some years ago he came to California, and she lost track of him and wrote that I might as well confess that I murdered him, as it couldn't do me any harm, as I was in jail. "This thing is a julep. You may say that I have nothing to confess. This story is made out of whole cloth by the railroad people, who are . using every effort to prejudice the people against me. They have subsidized the press, and now are using every effort to shut the doors of the theaters in Fresno and Visalia on the "Evans and Sontag" drama. Well' they're welcome to the job. Pixley, Goshen, Ceres and Collis-that's four of them. Why don't they scratch up a few more?

move that they will make? I shouldn't wonder if they had a dozen men up the trees, around Jim Young's cabin, as witnesses to that fight. That would help out the stories of Will Smith and Detective Dutchy, who played the railroad company," continued Evans.
"Now, I never met George Sontag entil January, 1892. I don't think he was on the Coast before that time. Most of these robberies occurred before he came here, which shows that it is a fake to get me to say something. Well, Sheriff Scott's confessional will not have me on the list. I've nothing to confess.' When asked if Sontag might not be trying to make terms for himself in confessing, he replied that he could not tell what pack of lies that fellow had been telling. He believed it was a scheme gotten up by Jim Hume to get him to say something and commit himself, and announced that he would add another class of classification of criminals for railroad detectives

ALL-ROUND SHOOTING.

Three Men Fatally Shot and the Murderer

OAKLAND, Oct. 1.—(By the Asso-lated Press.) A desperate shooting offray occurred here tonight, in which three men were fatally wounded, and a fourth was seriously hurt. A crowd of citizens joined the police in the pursuit of the would-be murderer, sending after him a fucillade of shots in the chowded streets.

William Green and Tom Mullen were standing outside of a saloon on the corner of Seventh and Broadway, when Peter Butts, an acquaintance of the former, passed by Green accosted Butts by asking when he got out of jall. The latter drew a revolver and shot Green, who fell to the curb. A policeman then attempted to arrest Butts. Who ran, firing at the officer. One of these stray bullets hit a street car conductor named W. E. Beeny, fatally wounding him. Another took effect in the body of a man whose name was un-obtainable, inflicting a serious wound

Another policeman and a crowd cf citizens started in pursuit of Putts. Many had revolvers, and over (wenty shots were sent after the fleeing fugitive. When he was finally captured it was found that five bullets had entered his body. Green, Beeny and Butts cannot live

The schooner was dispossessed of her papers and ordered to leave the neighborhood. The threat was made that if she lingered twenty-four hours she would be blown out of the water. Under the circumstances Capt. Wade sailed, though protesting against such high-handed action. He will, on his arrival home, it is expected, report the threats used to him by the Russian commander to the authorities at Washington.

PREE AND GUILTLESS. Axel Sorenson is Released by the Police of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.-(By the Associated Press.) Axel Sorenson, the sailor who has been under arrest here since last Thursday, under suspicion of having been implicated in the dyna-mite explosion, was released from custody today, the police being convinced of his innocence. Sorenson's name was found on a valise containing dynamite, which was left in a lodging house on the night of the explosion.

What Became of the Missing Mineral Range Money.

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) A special dispatch from Calumet to the Free Press says that the true story of the recovery of the $70,000 stolen from the Mineral Range train in September has just come out. It will be remembered that Shoupe and Winters, two railroad employees at Marquette, were arrested and subse released. They stole money from Laliberty's trunk, and Laliberty knew it, but could say nothing without giving himself away.

After his arrest and confession the two implicated were arrested. They were offered rewards of liberty if they would confess and reveal the where abouts of the money. The offer was accepted, and the money was found buried in the ground, four miles north of Marquette. Heretofore the officials maintained that the money was not recovered, although the officers of the express company claimed that it had.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—(By the Assoclated Press.) Charles Oldham, official representative of the Royal British Commission, has begun testing California wines. Charles A. Wetmore, who has charge of the exhibit, has this matter also in charge. He said today that the information already given in the Associated Press dispatches was all that could be given now.

When asked regarding the correspondence between California and other foreign countries, Mr. Wetmore said that possibly he would have something of interest to communicate in a few days. This gist of correspondence with the British Commissioner shows that Wetmore was dissatisfied with John Boyd Thatcher's plan of exami-nation and favored that of Oldham." He appealed to Gov. Markham to alhim to appoint a special expert, when so authorized, communicated with Sir Henry Wood. The British Commission held a special session to consider the matter, and accepted the plan. Mr. Oldham, the well-known London whe merchant, the well-known London whe merchant, will finish the report in London. He is recognized as a most competent authority, having had a most extensive acquaintance with wines of all countries.

dislike to us. But the reason is a very simple one. We English are by no means a lovable race. We have many admirable qualities. We are a hardy, practical, persevering people; but these are not in themselves sympathetic properties. We are aggressive, self-assertive, purseproud and procritical. We are apt to sing psalms and pick pockets at one and the same propertical. We are apt to sing psalms and pick pockets at one and the same propertical. especially the French, so heartily detest us.

It is also a curious fact that whenever there are any general elections to be held in the great republics the most popular policy is to twist the tail of the British lion. It would be instructive, as a subject for the dull season, to discuss the question, "Are we English really much superior to all other nations?" I think we are, but apparently our neighbors think otherwise; and it might be well, therefore, to discover whether we are implicated or whether they are stupidly prejudiced.

NO THIEF WILL TOUCH IT.

An Unlucky Ring Which Hangs on the Neck of a Madrid Statue.

A costly ring, unguarded by police or other special protection, hangs suspended to a silken cord round the neck of a statue of the Maid of Almadena, the patron saint of Madrid, in one of the most frequented parks of the Spanish capital. It is set with valuable diamonds and pearls, but, according to the Philadelphia Record, there is not the least danger of its being stolen; the greatest thief in Spain would sooner steal the plate from his own mother's coffin than to even so much as touch the uncanny relics. Its history is curious and interesting, being equal to anything related in medieval folkiore. It was made in accordance with a special order from the late Alfonso XII, who gave it to his cousin, the beautiful Mercedes, on the day of their betrothal. She wore it constantly during her short married life. Upon her death the King presented it to his grandmother, Queen Christina. She died soon after accepting it and the King then passed the deadly little jeweled band of gold to his sister, Infanta de Pilar, who died within a month after. Again the accursed circlet started on its deadly rounds, next finding a place upon the finger of Christina, daughter of the Duke Montpensier. In less than one hundred days she, too, was dead. Alfonso then put the cursed jewel in his casket of precious relics, and lived less than a year after so doing. Is it any wonder that such a harbinger of death can safely hang on a statue in an unguarded square? An Unlucky Ring Which Hangs on the Neck of a Madrid Statue.

Dr. Balch of Summerland and Dr. Delmel of this city testified as to the extent and dangerous character of the wounds, and that they had evidently been made with a sharp instrument. The defense claim that the first blow struck by Phillips was with his fist, but as the blow partially stunned Raffoir and as the edges of the wound are sharp cut, it seems hardly probable that such a blow could be struck with the fist without causing blood to gather around the wound, as was not the case

EVENTS FOR TODAY.

Larger Attendance and Better Sport Promised.

Progress Made by Cyclers in Southern California.

Drawback, but the "Boys" Will Know Better Next Time-Random Sporting Notes.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the remaining events on the programme of the cyclers' meet will be run off, with the exception of the last number, th team race, on the Athletic Park track.
Today, being a legal holiday, it is expected that a much larger crowd than that appearing Saturday will be called to witness the sport, and that for the riders have trained conscien-tiously, worked hard, and need the en-couragement of a well-filled grand stard to spur them on to their best efforts.

This meet is the first ever held by This meet is the first ever field by the Southern California division of the Wheelman's League. The division is scarcely six months old, but the progress it has made has placed its riders among the first class, notwithstanding numerous drawbacks attendant upon its early growth.

Heretofore, although no distinctive Southern California division meets have been held, the wheelmen have had occasion to exhibit their riding at the club gatherings and field day events, which have been numerous during the past year. In fact, their experience in such matters has enabled the officers of the different clubs to take charge of a full racing programme with considerable tact, and carry it through to the finish without error of serious note.

This statement is made generally, leaving it to be understood that there are exceptions to the rule. On Saturday there was much on the track in the way of management open to criticism by which the success of the meet has been materially lessened. Of course it was not the fault of the majority of the members of the Los Angeles clubs as a whole, for a more well-meaning or genial lot of riders will meaning or genial lot of riders hardly be found in the league. It their misfortune rather than their ina certain selection on the list of of-ficers that led to the promulgation of most unheard-of regulations on the rules and etiquette of the course. Leaving out reference to individuals and speaking of the body of the Southern California wheelingen a short history of the growth of the sport of cycling in this part of the State in the way of an extract from the itinerary embodied in the souvenir of this event is not out of place.

During the early days, when cycling was in its infancy, all of the wheelmen in Southern California, with but few exceptions, lived in Los Angeles or Pasadena, but in the course of time the silent steed began to appear in a majority of the cities and towns throughout the Southern counties. The wheelmen kept increasing in numbers till at last, in 1888, they felt that they should be recognized by the Northern members of the league, and, through the efforts of several enthusiastic riders, determined, if possible, to have the fourth annual meet of the general California division held in Los Angeles, and with that end in view Phil Percival was sent up to San Francisco as a club representative, and the meet was secured.

This meet was held on May 30, 1889, club representative, and the meet was secured.

This meet was held on May 30, 1889, and furnished the beginning of the agitation for a separate division for Southern California. A petition asking that California be divided in two league divisions was circulated and signed by nearly one hundred members in this part of the State, and sent to the president of the league. The matter was not considered at the time, and for many causes a delay of two years was occasioned before further steps were taken. In February of this year John S. Thayer was sent as a delegate to the league convention held at Philadelphia, and he effected the desired change by presenting his petition, which made the Southern California wheelmen independent of their northern brethren.

AMATEUR BASEBALL EVEN'TS.

The "Roosters" are making exten-sive preparations for a trip to San Diego, where they will combat for honors with a rival baseball club of the same name in that city. Saturday, October 14, is the date agreed upon for the game, and one of the strongest combinations of representative gentle-men sports ever gotten together is expected to go along with a cargo of ties.

Every one in the crowd is expected to take a full dress suit along, and creception and ball will be held in the evening in honor of the victors, who, of course will be our own Roosters, and they will return home Monday. Not one of the boye entertains any idea other than victory, and they have already purchased (at a very low figure) a large number of Democratic roosters left over from last November election, for display on their hats, while the scalps of the rival roosters dangle at their belts.

The boys are out practicing about three times a week, and expect to be able to put up a gilt-edged game when the great day comes. Only the very best material to be had will be utilized, and the "weeding out" process will be invoked by the management from this on. The coming game with the Diego Roosters is looked upon by local boys as the strongest one they have yet had, and they will govern themselves accordingly.

It seems as if Mitchell has come to America to fight Corbett, and this fact is taking the wind from many of Mitchell's enemies.

W. Burgess and F. Cole have broken the tandem safety record for 100 miles by riding from Hitchin, county Hertford, to Peterboro, county Nottingham, England, a distance of fifty miles, and return, in 5h. 30m. The best previous record of this kind was 5h. 36m.

Baseball in this State seems to have become a back number, and former enthusiasts have forsaken the diamond for more popular sport. The San Francisco managers are still endeavoring to instill some life into the game, but, to all appearances, they are meeting with but little success, judging from the following paragraph, which appeared in Saturday's Chronicle: "The the following paragraph, which appeared in Saturday's Chronicle: "The new league is struggling for a place in history. The Tilt Between Town Officials—Constable Dexter's Statement.

Apropos of the little tilt between

Town Attorney Tanner and Constable Dexter in 'Squire Willis's court the other day, Mr. Dexter, in speaking about the matter yesterday, said that Mr. Tanner was all wrong when he stated that the officers were persecuting the old soldier. "Why," said by that we do not put some old sol-dier on the car and send him home, dier on the car and send him home, and we never arrest one without he is committing some serious breach of the law. We do not arrest more than two out of five of them who come down here, and it is preposterous to think that we make a business of arresting these veterans for the sake alone of the fees that we receive."

An important change of time went into effect on the Southern Pacific Railroad yesterday. The train which has hitherto left the city for Santa Monica at 10:20 a.m., and the train leaving here at 4:45 p.m., for Los Angeles have both been taken off. The last train to Los Angeles now leaves at 3:50 p.m.

Workmen's Insurance in Germany. An interesting pamphlet has been received, descriptive of the Workmen's Insurance Machinery Hall at the World's

The system was initiated in the message of Emperor William I to the Reichstag in 1881, in which the recessity of furthering the welfare of the workin peoplewas impressed |upon that body. It was declared that the working man, unfitted to work by sickness, accident, invalidity or old age, is to have a legal right to a due and just provision, in order not to be compelled to rely upon public charity. This end could only be attained by a system of invalidity and old age insurance law general and compulsory insurance, based on mutuality and self-administra-

The first social-political enactment was the sick insurance law of June 15, apprentices and servants included; sec-1883, which regulated the reform of sick relief in its relation to the insurassistants (clerks and apprentices) with against accidents. These two branches of insurance supplement each marks. The obligation to insure may and, quite unlike mere also be extended by order of the Fed-law relief, which aims only eral Council; third, to small masters upholding the existence of with only one assistant workman, and the individual, are designed fourth, to so-called home-industrials, irto provide relief in case of sickness or accidents, and to compensate for lost wages during the time of disability to work. On the principles of previous legislation, which trusted chiefly to the good will of interested parties, barely half of those who needed it were in a position to profit by this aid and

This state of things necessarily led to the introduction of compulsory insurance, which, in the first place, was by law made obligatory on all workmen employed in mines, quarries, factories, or other industrial concerns, and on managing officials (with yearly salaries up to 2000 marks, and whose circum stances are nearly alike) in so far as this obligation might be found generally necessary and practicable. In the second place, it was permitted to establish a statutory obligation of insurance on the part of the parish (township) for those groups of trades and callings -such as so-called home industrials (small masters and mechanics working at home) and agricultural laborerswhere the above-mentioned necessity is entirely dependent on local circumstances.

The foundation and first condition of compulsory insurance is dependency on an employer, so that persons carrying on a business of their own are generally exempted. But the law concedes to all exempted workmen and officials, as well as to servants, the right to participate voluntarily in the benefits of the insurance.

The supplemental measure of 1892 with the intention of bringing the sick insurance law into harmony with the and find themselves entirely without invalidity and old age,) which, in the meantime, had received the sanction of the government, has widened still farpersons engaged in commercial firms offices of attorneys, notaries, bailiffs, sick clubs, trades' association and insurance institutions are made liable to the legal, and agricultural officials to the statutory obligation of insurance. All the exempted, however whose yearly earnings do not exceed 2000 marks, may obtain the statutor; privilege of insurance.

As regards the mode of carrying out the insurance, the fundamental object of the law is mutual insurance based on self-administration. The insured are classed in corporate associations, whose members belong to the same trade or calling, where the risk of sickness is about alike. This organization greatly facilitates self-administration while it exercises a healthy and moral influence on the members in their in tercourse with one another, it makes simulation more difficult, and the in dispensable control easier and more effectual. The great purpose of the insurance is to secure to the insured an ever-certain and sufficient relief, in case of illness, during at least thirteen weeks. minimum of relief to which all the insured have a legal claim insary.

"The Coast Seamen's Union denies any complicity with the recent dynamite outrage in this city, and has plassered the dead walls all over with hand-bills, offering rewards for the apprehension and conviction of the dynamiters. What of it? The leading spirits of the union know very well that the attempt to blow up Curtin's house, which resulted in the mangling and death of several unfortunate men, was directly in line with the principles which are instilled into the minds of its members by the Coast Seamen's Union, and that the union has no moral right, whatever may be the legal status of the case, to disclaim the responsibility for the terrible deed. One who gives a child or a lunatic a lighted candle and a flask or gunpowder can hardly escape being connected with the subsequent explosion.

"Andrew Furuseth may express horror at the recent events, and may even feel it, but when did the Coast Seamen's Union ever publish a decree against violence? When did it ever condemn the beating of anchor chains on non-union vessels? It has preached the gospel of force, and now it is too late for it to shirk the responsibility of its teachings.

"One of two things must be done in First-Free medical attendance and medicines from the beginning of the illness, likewise spectacles, trusses, bandages, etc. Second-In case of incapacity rork, from the third day of illness, for every working day a sick-pay, amounting to one-half the daily wages on which the contributions have been based; or, in special cases, free admittance to a hospital, together with half the sick-pay for the family. Besides this assistance, the obligatory insurance grants:

Third-Burial money, amounting to twenty times the average daily wages;

Fourth-Sick relief to women during four weeks after confinement.

The money value of this assistance is considered equal to the average daily wages upon which the calculation is The law, however, allows the double insurance of sick pay up to the full amount of the average daily earnings of the insured. It also authorizes be regulated by law. The safety of the community cannot permit the continuance of unilcensed and unregulated organizations which shall preach anarchy and dynamite in secret and then seek to rehabilitate themselves in public opinion by offering rewards for the perpetrators of outrages for which they are responsible."

The Senate appears to be in a state of deadlock, and a vote on the question of repeal is seemingly as far off as it was the first day of the session, and even farther. The silver men are stub-bornly fighting every inch of ground and the prospects are excellent for their securing a compromise, at least. Mean-while the country is slowly recovering from its condition of dread, and the "panic" is wearing itself out. If Congress will but agree to let the tariff alone, we will be in the midst of good

ATTRACTION TONIGHT.-The great "Urania" spectacle, from Carnegie Mu-sic Hall, New York city, which has had a phenomenal success at the Baldwin, and the Stockwell Theater, in San Francisco, will be presented at the Los dynamite outrage in that city:

"The argument that has been made in favor of labor unions, and which has been unanswerable, is that labor is not only justified, but necessitated to defend itself against the aggressions of capital, and that a union of workingmen, acting within proper and well-defined limits, was fully as legitimate as a corporation, which is the exponent of aggregate capital.

"Thus far the best opinion of the civilized world goes with trades unions, but when such unions undertake to substitute violence for argument, and brute force for reason and arbitration, public opinion must change and society must, in self-defense, arm itself against organizations which, under pretense of being associations of workingmen, are really bands of Anarchists and assassins. The right of self-defense is just as sacred to a community as to an individual, and it matters not from what side the assault may come which renders defense of life and property necessary.

The Agricultural Fair. The Agricultural Fair.

I'm a horny-handed farmer with hayseed in my hair.

And the wind blows through my whiskers and chants an anthem rare.

I toll the seed the nation, with wheat at sixty cents.

And the man that takes the profits lives
regardless of expense.

I rise at 5 o'clock and work till eventide has come. tide has come.

And watching how my mortgage grows has made me rather glum;
But peace is in my inner soul whene'er I think about How the Agricult'ral S'iety is bound to help us out.

This Agricult'ral S'iety is for the farmer This Agricult al S'iety is for the farmer man.
And it's bound to give him "pointers" if anybody can;
It's a-scheming and a-planning for his profit all the while.
And to help the horny-handed is its beneficial style.
So when I heard that it would give an Agricult al Fair
I says, says I, there's me and mine I calc'hate will be there,
And there we'll learn how best to farm and that blame' mortgage rout,
For the Agricult al S'iety is bound to holp us out.

And so I went and looked around, and here's what's beatin' me:
There's nothing for the farmers there as far as I could see;
There's just a stretch of dusty road, a double-jointed track,
And fellers sellin' things called pools—their business wasn't slack—Gambling and swearing, whisky sold and horses racing free,
But how that helps the farmer out I'm durned if I can see;
And it needs my biggest stock of faith durned if I can see;
And it needs my biggest stock of faith
to cold suspicion rout
And still believe the S'iety is bound to help us out.

TEMPLE STREET CHRISTIAN.

Rev. A. C. Smither, pastor of the Temple Street Christian Church, is Rey. A. C. Smither, pastor of the Temple Street Christian Church, is just fairly entering upon his fourth year's pastorate with that church, and apropos to the occasion he delivered a sermon yesterday morning to an interested audience upon his Three Year's Pastorate" in Los Angeles, in which he summarized the work accomplished by his church in that time. He has preached 275 sermons and had 296 accessions to the membership. Within that time both senior and junior endeavor societies have been organized, and are among the most active societies in the city. Work has been pushed among the Chinese by the church until it has one of the most flourishing schools among the celestials that can be found in the city.

The pastor then indicated some of the difficulties against which his church has had to contend, one of the principal ones being the need of a new crurch-house, his work being greatly hampered in the old one.

He then pointed out some of the lines of work which he desired to be prosecuted this year.

on the text, Daniel ill, 18: "We will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up."

Introducing the scriptural narrative of the refusal of the three Hebrews to bow to the idolatrous image which Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, set up on the plain of Dura, the speaker said that of all the glorious things which we are permitted to witness, the most glorious is the rafusal of a man to bow the knee to the alluring and glittering idols which mankind has set up. This boasted nineteenth century of ours, is just as idol-loving as preceding ones. To whatever image society sets up, we supinely bend the knee without questioning its principle and integrity. Sculptors unveil the nude, and we approve because society calls it high art, and not shameful nakedness. Painters who have no touch and kinship with Christian feeling, paint a bevy of naked girls, disporting amid filmsy and transparent spray, and because some rich man hangs up the picture in an art gallery, we applaud—and admire. It has been the universal experience of the ages and the unvarying testimony of history that the tacit approval of a thing is invariably followed by its imitation, and today, as a result of these things, there are semi-nude exhibitions and disgraceful orgies in some of the boudoirs of society leaders in Boston and New York. Let a parent but stop and ask himself the question: Would I approve of my daughter taking part in such licentious scenes and performances? before he gives them his approval and countenance. Morality and modesty, the handmaids of Christianity, lie at the very root of them his approval and countenance. Morality and modesty, the handmalds of Christianity, lie at the very root of a nation's life, when they perish and disappear, the end of trat nation is not far off, the death knell of its destiny has already sounded.

Another idol which society has set up is the glittering god of wealth. The fascination of being able to provide for every want and necessity exercises a wonderful and potent influence over us. We unconsciously generate a spirit of independence of our fellows, and this too often leads to a spirit of independence of our fellows, and this too often leads to a spirit of independence of our fellows, and this too often leads to a spirit of independence of God. Wealth is one of the best servants in the world, for through it untold good me be accomplished. But woo to the man who makes it his god, who looks to it and it alone to bring him peace of mind and calmness of soul. There is no fiercer, more cruel, more implicable god than the god of wealth, who has entrapped his votaries in the unyielding meshes of his golden web. That god never satisfies his worshipers, never satiates those appetites which he himself has created. And the peace of God which passes all understanding is driven from the heart of man, and in its place is enshrined that inordinate love of money, which is the root of all evil.

There are also men and women who are setting up ideals of life, ideals of thought, ideals of action, which can only lure the soul to its own destruction. Millions bow before them, because they are considered advanced, brainy, ahead of the times. We have no word of condemnation, or censure for any man or woman who is developing new schemes for the benefit of mankind. For they are benefactors of the human race; but we have nothing but scorn for a shallow school of false idealists, whose idealism is its own vanity, whose gospel is the gospel of a silly and unregulated imagination. We have lately been treated to a so-called Parliament of Religions in Chicago, at which every effect a the veneration and respect shown to Christianity. The religion that has brought the enlightened nations of the earth from darkness to light, being put on an equality with religions which, for centuries, have kept their followers in the rayless gloom of Styglan night. Never since the ten persecutions of the early church, save only when Tetzel hawked his infamous papal indulgences through Europe, has Christianity received such a blow in the face as she has received at the so-called Parliament of Religions, in the city of Chicago, in this year of grace, eighteen hundred and ninety-three! Never has the cause of foreign missions, which is the marching order of the church of God, received from Christian hands a more startling and appalling discouragement. Wherein, amid all this spurious liberality, which sacrifices the very spirit and essence of Christianity, amid the mass of corruption which spreads from the shady transactions of school boards, to the open debauchery of legislatures, amid the prurient and debased conceptions, which run from sensational newspapers to the elaborate art gallery—amid the silly vanity which captivates the school girl, and makes sad havoe in the life of the woman of fashion—amid all these things, what must be the attitude of these things, what must be the attitude of the Christian? It must be the attitude of the Christian? It must be the attitude of those men who said to Nebuchadnetzar: "We will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up." We must be prepared to pass through the mercless fire of ridicule; we must at times be willing to bear for the truth's sake, the bitter denunciation of being narrow-minded, bigoted, liliberal. is the greatest power in the iniverse; it creates heaven and earth and builds the pyramids and the temples. It is the author of all art, and the mother of history; can it be lost? There are two kinds of thought, one that is retained and the other that is put into action. The very fact that we think develops our minds. Let us think of good things, and our minds will dedevelop toward good. Those who think of evil things develop toward evil. We are all of us responsible for our thoughts. Thought is the material out of which character is built. Purity of life and character is the expressed thought of the infinite. How careful we ought to be that our thoughts are good, as every thought has its influence. The expressed thought of Columbus is immortal and is developed in the millions of people on the American soil. Even our inexpressed thoughts influence our neighbors for good or evil; how important that they be pure. The original meaning of the word thought is a shining garment. Who knows but that the material out of which our robes of immortality are formed may be our thoughts.

It is hoped they will both be present tomorrow evening at the informal reception at the association rooms. Good music has also been provided.

UNITY CHURCH. At the Church of the Unity yesterday morning Rev. Thomson preached an eloquent sermon upon "Looking Into the Face of the Future," from

Into the Face of the Future," from Philippians iii, 13-14.

Imagination, reason and action are large factors of success. We must have an object, must make a plan to reach it, and must work for it. Nothing is really ours that we do not toil for. If a man were offered heaven without work he could not enjoy it, because he would not be prepared to enjoy it. Heaven is won by human merit. Ideals are necessary, as they wao the soul on to noble needs and diffine actualizations. It is sinful to spend time and strength in vain regrets about past tions. It is sinful to spend time and strength in vain regrets about past blunders and sins. Paul forgot his past and spent his strength in laboring for the future. God is not so illiberal as to refuse any sinner an opportunity to win the crown of life. In fact, Christ came to offer the worst sinners every opportunity to work for heaven. When a man is struggling to a larger of the worst strength of the works with wideled wave and live of fact, Chast came to offer the worst sinners every opportunity to work for heaven. When a man is struggling to leave his wicked ways and live a healthy life, we should never cast up to him his past blunders. Christ's treatment of sinners, and the parable of the prodigal son forbid such anti-Christian conduct. Surely God will give His children a chance to utilize the lessons which their failures have taught them. When we think that all things or worlds we see will vanish away, what answers the question, "What lies beyond?" Religion is the only thing that can answer the question. The reason, the conscience, the heart, the senses, have no answer. Religion, like the search-light, pierces the mysteries and darkness, and shows us the things which our fleshly eyes cannot see. It was shown that religion is the mother of education, charity, and science. science.
Next Sunday morning the subject will be "Spiritual Voices and Spiritual Ears."

IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN. At Immanuel PressiviteRIAN.

At Immanuel Pressiviterian Church
yesterday morning, Rev. W. J. Chichester preached an excellent sermion, based on the text. "And underneath are the everlasting arms," Deuteronomy xxxiii, 27.

These words are the sweatest in the whole Bible. Dr. Chichester said, although it seems a little remarkable

These words are the sweetest in the whole Bible. Dr. Chichester said, although it seems a little remarkable that they should have been spoken by a man like Moses, a man whom we do not regard as having very much tenderness. The fact is, however, that Moses has been misrepresented and misunderstood, and he really felt what a refuge we have in the Eternal. God, whose name is love, whose everlasting arms are underneath us.

of God's matchless condescension. It is not that we take hold of God, but that God takes hold of us. His steadfast support comprehends everything, it embraces everything, it supplies all. We should thank God devoutly for that word "underneath." which goes down below the deepest depths of our nature, and upholds whatever is weak, and reaches beyond even pain—which is the deepest thing that we know.

It has been said that the highest and best thing for human nature is working; but it is not working, it is resting—resting in the everlasting arms. There are four great questions which concern the world nowadays. They are:

not, neither is He ever weary? God will take us in His arms; we can cling to Him; we can bring to Him all our cares, casting our burdens down.

Let us rest. We push, we fret, we fume, we can hardly sit still twenty minutes to hear a sermon. Bus rest—and let us rest in God's lasting arms

CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH. Rev. F. M. Larkin preached yester-day morning at Central Methodist Episcopal Church, from Luke xvii, 5: crease Our Faith."

crease Our Faith."

Christ, he explained, had been talking to the disciples of offenses, and of our duty to forgive our brother, though he "trespass against thee seven times in a day." Let us note that the Master also said: "If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him." If we would only follow this command of the Lord, how much sorrow and discomfort would be saved, and by giving the opportunity for explanation we would often find that offenses were but Imaginary ones.

would often find that offenses were but imaginary ones.

It was hard for the disciples to comprehend this strange, new doctrine of the Master, which taught them not only to forgive seven times, but seventy times seven, and, feeling their own lack of strength, they exclaimed: "Lord, increase our faith."

There are two kinds of faith alluded to by the Savior. In speaking to the disciples on numerous occasions, when they had shown some lack, He had exclaimed: "Oh, ye of little faith."

Then, again, He speaks of great faith, notably, when the centurion asked Him to heal his daughter, and said: "Speak the word only, and my daughter shall be healed." Jesus said to his disciples: "I have not seen so great faith, no, be healed." Jesus said to ms disciples.
"I have not seen so great faith, no, not in Israel."

not in Israel."

If your faith is but small, yet it has the power within to become a great, tree like the mustard seed. This life is but the index to the faith we have in the life which is to come.

How shall our faith grow? The seed, the little mustard seed appropriates the the little mustard seed, appropriates the sunshine, the moisture and the air, and develops into a "great tree." So faith, in like manner, must develop by appropriating certain conditions and things in life which will add to the vitality and growth of that little germ, and cause you to grow in grace and in the knowledge of God.

We ask ourselves often, why we have not accomplished more for God, why our plans for the salvation of souls have not succeeded as we desired. It is because of our lack of faith. But do not be discouraged. God will use that little faith, if you will obey and trust-Him, and it will grow stronger day by day.

EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH.

EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH. Rev. G. L. Cole having been returned by conference to the charge of Epworth Church, was received in a royal Church, was received in a royal manner yesterday morning, the services being quite out of the usual order. The superintendent followed with fitting words, and the pastor made response, assuring all who had we supposed him how much the hold of the school of a morning sermonic for the church, setting forth their duties and privileges.

St. VINCENT M. E. CHURCH.

At St. Vincent Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday fifteen new names were added to the roll, and $2000, the current expenses of the church for the year, was pledged in a few minutes at request of the official bears. This was sufficient to fill the hearts of all St. Vincent members with gladnegs. The pastor, Rev. F. V. Fisher, excelled his previous best efforts in the morning sermon, founded on the text from Judges vil. 18, "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon."

The evening service was conducted by the rew assistant pastor, Rev. Edwin H. Fretz, and his thoughful words deeply impressed the large congregation.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH Communion was observed yesterday morning at the English Lutheran Church, a number of young people uniting with the church. The pastor, in his address, spoke on the essentials to a worthy participation of the Lord's supper, emphasizing repentance and faith as the two great qualities necessary. The choir, under leadership of the service was a high day at the Pacific Gospel Union, on Spring street. Elighty hungry men and women gathered around the breakfast tables at the free breakfast, and were served by the women of the mission with a good meal. About one hundred attended the free breakfast, and were served by the women of the mission with a good meal. About one hundred attended the free breakfast, and were served by the women of the mission with a good meal. About one hundred attended the meeting held afterward. Mr. Hare conducted the services, and there were ducted the services, and there were six conversions.

The afternoon meeting, held by the wagon workers, at First and Los Angeles streets, was attended by a large and attentive crowd, and there were two conversions. After several addresses, solos and duets, Rev. A. A. Tilley preached a forcible sermon, from the lesson of the prodigal son. The evening meeting was successful. The record for the day was thirteen conversions.

AT THE CATHEDRAL.

Rev. Emil Cote, who was elevated to the priesthood on the last Sunday of September, celebrated his first mass at the cathedral yesterday morning. An unusually large congregation was present at the last mass, and the altar was richly decorated with exotics and embowered in palms, its beauty being enhanced by the radiance of innumerable wax-lights. His lordship, the bishop, honored the occasion by his presence, and Mr. Cote was assisted by the Rev. Joseph Noonan, assistant rector of the Church of Our Lady Angels, as deacon, and by the Rev. William Louis Dye, secretary of the bishop, as sub-deacon. The reverend gentleman and his assistant were robed in vestments of white brocade, elaborately embroidered with gold.

The musical programme comprised Mozagt's "Twelfth Mass," rendered by the cathedral choir, augmented by a number of professional vocalists, and accompanied by the organ and a full orchestra. At the offertory Lambillotte's "Memorare" was sung, Miss Cecilia Gardner sustaining the soprano solo with artistic ability.

The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Joseph Doyle, who, in his closing remarks, took occasion to congratulate the newly-ordalined priest, and to beg in his behalf the prayers of all present, to the end that his sacerdotal career might prove a means of salvation to himself and beneficial to those confided to his care. AT THE CATHEDRAL.

In the evening a solemn vesper service was chanted, at which Mr. Cote officiated, assisted by the clergy of the cathedral parish.

AT SIMPSON TABERNACLE. AT SIMPSON TABERNACLE.
There was a special praise and song service at Simpson Tabernacle last evening. Among the soloists were: Miss Lizzie Kimball, Miss Edna Foy, Mrs. McKnight and Fred Wallace, assisted by a large chorus. Miss Helen Widney was pianist.

(From Our Regular New York Fashion It is pleasant to see that the English It is pleasant to see that the English fashion of keeping girls young is coming into vogue in this country. Girls of 16 and 17 are gowned like children of 12, the bodices loose, belts wide, materials simple, and, best of all, the hair left straight and loose. The idea is in all, ways a good one. The sudden blossoming of a girl into Parisian costume for her debut has the greater value, and her charms of youth are fresh, the figure unhurt, and the beau-tiful hair glossy and unspoiled by crimping and irons. Then, too, atten crimping and irons. Then, too, attention to a girl before she is out is unheard of, and something of the calm of childhood stays in the eyes to add to the fascination of the maid at her coming out. It has taken years for the American mother to realize these things, and the relief of strain upon the purse it is to keep the younger sile really younger till each in her time "comes out."

Here is a pictured girl of 17, who, though the daughter of well-to-do parents, appeared in a gown of dark blue serge with dots of red, a yoke lined with red Hercules, and a large hat of rough red and blue braided straw rough red and blue braided straw. A binding of red silk and a loose bow of the same were the only trimming, the hat being essentially a child's hat. Her very heavy dark half hung straight over her shoulders, and was uncut about the forehead and entirely unbound. The beauty of placid and grave childhood was in her face, there was no effort at being like her elder sisters, and no one could fail to realise the value given to her really remarkable beauty by her style of gowning, nor fail to look to the time when she should graduate, unspoiled, into what is called "the social whit."

reports as to their disreputable character by the Chief of Police, through Secretary Moffatt.

The place at Main and Arcadia streets, known as the Pacific Gardens, was one of the first reported on, and the revocation of the saloon license for that place took effect September 1. The proprietor there, however, obtained a license to sell milid drinks, and has, during the past month, been doing so, and keeping otherwise very much such a house as before.

The notorious Joe Chambers's saloon at No. 233 East First street, has been closed since the license was revoked. An application by another man for a permit for saloon license there was presented at the meeting of the Police Commission two weeks ago, and was considered at the last meeting.

The consent of the requisite number of property-owners from that block not having been secured, the application was denied.

M. T. Felchin, the proprietor or manager of the "Louvre" on New High street, formerly known as Kennedy's place, disappeared Saturday morning. It is said that he took with him all the available funds in the cash-drawer, and left to mourn his disappearance the performers, musicians and waiters, to each of whom a week's salary was due. It is stated that the establishment was considerably indebted to several firms in the city Felchin, it is believed, knowing that it was his last day, took the opportunity to leave town with the funds on hand before the employees of the place should demand of him their salaries.

The place was running as usual Saturday night, and it was stated that the employees there were for the evening's obusiness, thus making up, in part, for the money due them from the missing proprietor.

It is expected that the booths will now be torn out and the place used for some other purpose.

The closing of the New Orleans House, on East Second street, it believed to be another move in the right direction. A reporter visited the house shortly before 12 o'clock Saturday night in company with an officer, and the scene was a revolting one.

The closing

rooms had a table within, and around the table were seated men and women who were half tipsy from drink. Some of them were seated in one anoth-er's laps, and they were conduct-ing themselves in a disgraceful manner.

In an adjoining room there was musle, and at intervals the half-drunken creatures would dance together. Two or three of the characters of this place have been frequently seen in the dock of the police courts, and all of the frequenters there were well-known to the police as an undesirable class of people to have in the city.

undestrable class of people to have in the city.

The New Orleans House has now passed into a new management, and it is announced that none of the former patrons of the place are to remain there. The building is to be altered and renovated throughout, and is to be used as a respectable lodging-house.

No action has yet been taken by the saloon men toward carrying out the rule relating to side entrances and back rooms, and this matter will probably be considered at the meeting of the commissioners Tuesday.

AN ANCIENT CANAL. A Discovery in the Crimea of Another Won

(Scientific American:) The Russian engineer Melnikoff writes from Odessa to the Smithsonian Institution, says the Philadelphia Telegraph, describing the ruins of an ancient canal discovered in the Crimea, which he regards as one of the wonders of the world. At each end of the western side there was a lofty castle, the cubical contents exceeding 750,000 metres. A part of these stones, as well as those with which the bed of the canal was paved its entire length, were removed some time ago to build a town which adjoins.

During the Crimean war some of the stones remaining were utilized in the construction of hospitals for the wounded soldiers, which structures are still standing. Along the banks of the canal there are at least six towers, but what purpose they served, unless for defense, is uncertain. There was also a high wall, which extended its entire length. At an equal distance from each end there was a siganite fortress, built in the form of a square and covering a space of 32,400 square metres. The canal is as straight as an arrow its entire length, except at this point, where it forms three sides of a square about the fortress. Here there was a smaller canal on the outer side, which may have provided greater security.

One of the gateways of the fortress is still partially preserved, and through it passes a dilapidated road. The canal was built by Assande I of Bosphorus in the seventh century B.C., and is nine willow the seventh century B.C., and is nine willowed.

THE BLACK-JACK INN.

THE BLACK-JACK INN.

Demolition of a Hostelry Familiar to All Readers of Dickens.

(London Daily News:) A few days ago the ancient "hostelrie" familiar to readers of Dickens as the "Black Jack," in Portsmouth street, Clare Market, closed its doors forever, as the entire block of buildings surrounding it is about to be demolished. The "Black Jack" is the house to which Sam Weller escorted his master when that gentleman was in search of Lawton, Mr. Perker's clerk, on which occasion Mr. Pickwick heard the story of the "Queer Client," related by the ruysterious lawyer's clerk. The "Black Jack" has for many years been a veritable Mecca to the medical students who have successfully braved the terrors of the examination-room, for it was customary for them to adjourn to its hospitable bar and duly inscribe the names of the fortunate medicos in a register kept in the house for that purpose. Among the signatures to be seen are those of James Paget and Andrew Clarke, together with many others who have since attained, celebrity.

drew Clarke, together with many others who have since attained celebrity.

The death of the "Black Jack" adds one more to the ghostly taverns which have abounded in the immediate vicinity. The "Spotted Dog," the "White Lion" of Jack Sheppard notoriety, the "Bull's Head," where Hogarth met I is brother artists, and the "Spiller's Head," the Savage Club of those days, all stood within a few yards; while the "Angel," another house, claimed immortality as being the place whence in 1554 Bishop Hooper was taken to meet his death at Gloucester. At this inn, so late as 1779, a negro girl was sold., The Public Advertiser on March 28 in that year had the following advertisement: "To be sold, a black girl, 11 years of age. Extremely hardy. Works at her needle tolerably, and speaks English well. Inquire of Mr. Owen, at the Angel Inn."

PASADENA.

Some of Its Reasons for Self-Gratulation.

A Healthy Condition in Many Ways-A New Corporation Formed-Sunday Lotes from Rubio-Notes and Brevities.

It is a source of sincere gratification both positive and comparitive, for Pasadenians to contemplate the present prosperous and aggressive condition of this city. It is a positive gratification this city. It is a positive gratification when the numerous and substantial improvements now going forward are summed up; when the testimony of enrollment to the steady growth of the place is taken; when the evidences of individual thrift are canvassed, and when the assurance o canvassed, and when the assume of all the prophetic indications is invoked that goes to show that an unusually prosperous season is just ahead. It is a comparative gratification when these conditions are contrasted with those of contrasted with those of the place of locality and the prosperous season is just ahead. It is a comparative gratification, when these conditions are contrasted with those of any other place or locality, and the inevitable conclusion is reached that no other communities are in better shape, and few are in as good.

The situation will bear specification as well as generalization. In every part of town there still resounds the music of hammer, and spade, trowel and saw, and the new homes are everywhere; homes of comfort in cottages as well as homes of buxpry in mansions. Everywhere missing links of street grade and cement walks are multiplying convenience, appearence and comforts. The leading educational institution of this part of the State, the Throop Polytechnic Institute, has just dedicated a substantial and convenient building to its purposes of good for the young, and its school year begins with a registration almost equal to even its enlarged facilities to accommodate. As a tourist center the completion and successful operation of the Mt. Lowe Rallway adds to the attractive features of the locality its chief, for it conquers to the use and enjoyment of all classes of comers hitherto inaccessible sights and experiences. The pavement of the town's principal thoroughfares, now well under way, marks the progressive character of its men of means, and will add vastly to the sum total of the city's beauty. The greatly enlarged Hotel Green and the added accommodations of the Raymond are earnest of the coming among us of hundreds of tourists each season, in addition to the numbers who have hitherto been our visitors.

So it may readily be seen that, viewed either in the light of the general feeling of confidence and hope that is all-prevalent in the community, or judged upon the more tangible basis of the added advantages that may be listed and counted, the winter will dawn upon Pasadena as upon a community staple in her past achievements and certain of a future advance.

He then went to Mr. Walmsley's shop and bought a watch and chain for $13.50, leaving in payment a check for $15, signed 'G. Robertson' and saying he would return for the cash the next day. A Suggestion as to Crossings—Slowing Down Trains. While the City Council is proceeding to lay bituminous rock sidewalks it is suggested that, as the Council "has its hand in" it could do no better work and none that would be more appreciated than the laying of a few bitumi-nous rock crossings. For instance, there is the crossing leading to the depot on First street. Passengers are compelled to alight in the mud, and compelled to alight in the mud, and wade in it until they reach the cement sidewalks, which are about seventy-five feet away. The crossing could be made very cheap, while the other work is being done, and would be very useful, indeed. The crossing at Garey and First needs the same work, but will probably not be reached before the sidewalks are laid on Garey, which will probably come after Main. Ellen, Main and Garey are the three thoroughfares mostly used, and will undoubtedly receive first attention from the City Council.

It is understood that the Southern Pacific has already issued orders requiring freight and passenger trains to reduce speed to twelve miles an hour, so that it can already be determined just how fast the trains will run under the proposed fiew ordinance. Twelve miles an hour means fifteen minutes to get through the city, and it is doubtful if any passenger train or through freight is inside the city limits ten minutes, including the stop at the depot. If the trains will run slow half a mile each side of the depot there will be no "kick," according to the statements heard on the street.

County Officials Decline to Reduce Their Salaries.

olutions Adopted by the Supervisors-The Sheriff Was Willing to Start the Cut, But Others Were Not.

The last great effort, made by the ounty supervisors at their meeting on saturday, for the reduction of the salaries of the county officers, failed of its ourpose. Chairman Victor had visited nearly every head of a department and entreated him to enter into the agreement to make a 10 to 15 per cent. reuction in the salaries of deputies or clerks, promising that the supervisors would make an equal re-duction in their salaries. But to no avail. A few motly Democrats held out for their present salaries and that of their deputies. Thereupon the board passed the following resolutions: "Resolved, that recognizing the de mand from the taxpayers, whose serv-ants we are, for retrenchment to the lowest possible limit consistent with good service, in all branches of the good service, in all oranches of the public business, we hereby express our desire to afford such relief in the way of curtailment of county expenditure as lies in our power. We therefore call for the co-operation of all the heads of departments in the furtherance of this desire, to extend every possible by reducing expenses to the lo by reducing expenses to the low limit in their several departments, limit in their several departments, by dispensing with such clerical force as the safety of the service will admit of, and by exercising every means at their command to confine the expenditures in their several departments to the mini-mum amount.

command to confine the expenditures in their several departments to the minimum amount.

"Under a sense of duty the members of this Board of Supervisors have made an honest effort to secure the combined action of the public officers looking toward a general reduction of salaries, both with the principals and their deputies, or clerks, and have accompanied the request by the assurance that our own members be not exempt form the change to be made in the line of curtailment. This effort, we regret to state, has proved a failure on account of the want of unanimity on the part of our own public servants to share the burdens of the taxpayers, and the responsibility for such denial must be placed where it belongs.

"We therefore, as members of the Board of Supervisors, desire to state that notwithstanding this partial failure in the way of ritirement, we shall continue in our efforts to make such curtailment of the county expenditures as is consistent with an efficient service and as a careful adjustment of the raims upon its bounty will admit."

C. D. Hamilton, County Clerk, said that he refused to recommend he reduction of the salaries of his deputies, or to make the reduction himself for the following reasons: They are entitled by law to $125 per month, yet have been paid but $100 per month, yet have been therefore saved to the county $450 since January 1. They have also put in $32 hours extra time, equivalent to one Geputy for four months, making an additional saving of $400. The County Clerk's office has always been conducted econimically, and no further economy should be asked. It is not a puestion of how little the employees can get along with, but what are their services worth?

Under Sheriff J. C. King said that not all the Democratic officers held out against the request of the Board of Supervisors, for so far as that office is conceined, Sheriff Booth agreed at once to make the reductions proposed, and that he (King) ard W. B. Reeves, hother the proposed is an other deputy, were perfectly willing to

to make the reductions proposed, and that he (King) ard W. B. Reeves, the other deputy, were perfectly willing to accept the reduction, feeling that the times demanded it.

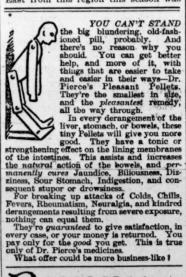

But as all would not agree to the cut, there will probably be no reductions in salaries in any department, and it is likely that the supervisors will hold to their $8 a day rate as before. THE LAMP EXPLODED.

At 12:40 last Saturday night the fire department was called out to a fire in the one-story frame house next to Gambrino's Hall on E street. The house is owned by Miss Bertha Caro, and is used as a laundry house. The prompt action of the fire department saved the house, from destruction, with but about $200 damages to the house, furniture and fixtures, which is all covered by insurance. Had the fire been a few minutes later, it would have been much more difficult to handle, as a stiff norther sprang up at the time.

The Butte Canal Project Obstacle Removed.

TUCSON, Sept. 27.-The hindrance ta a big storage reservoir project is re-ported removed. The enterprise in question is the big Butte reservoir, inal county, where in a narrow place in the Gila River water can be backed for twenty-six miles. It would furnish irrigation for 400,000 acres of land, and be probably the lagest canal project in the world. The shadow over the business has been that one company without the needful capital has a location on the proposed dam-site, while another company with money, of foreign through. The hitch has been removed by A. J. Chandler, who has been in England for some time. He arranged terms said to be satisfactory to both parties.

In Santa Fe the other day Jose M. Barela and Polito D. Larosa were in town with four strings of mountain trout, numbering 119, in all. In their ignorance of the law they attempted to sell the fish on the street. They were soon arrested and taken before Judge Wooster, who fined them $50 and costs, but suspended the fine during good be-havior. The fish were caught in the upper Gallinas. The men would not take them home with them, saying the fish would spoil before they got there. Several parties about town secured good

In Yavapai county they are in need of a probate judge, they having put their old one, Judge French, in jail, charging him with forging and cashing a warrant. No business whatever is being transacted in the office. There seems to be provision of law whereby a probate ige can be removed, no matter what may do or what he may be charged with. How long the present chaotic state of affairs, so far as this particular office is concerned, will continue can not now be determined.

TUCSON Sent 99 -Th

TUCSON, Sept. 29.—The proposition to abandon Fort Bowie, probably a measure of economy with the present national administration, created great surprise and bitter protest in Arizona. It is a post of great importance. The following shows the tone of the press press on the matter:

"The suggestion made by the War Department to abandon Fort Bowie as a military post should meet with a vigorous and determined protest by the people of Arizona. Fort Bowie occupies a position upon the direct trail of Apache marauders from San Carlos to the Sierra Madres in Mexico, and is the most available post at the time of an Indian outbreak. It is hoped that there may never be another occasion active field service of this kind in Arizona, but if the fort is abandoned it will remove one of the greatest obstacles to their successful raids through Southeastern Arizona. The move would be unwise, and it should vigorously opposed.

Phoenix is happy over the advent of electric cars. For hours before the time set to go Washington street was crowded as though a circus had come to town, and when the invited guests were aboard it was with difficulty the track was cleared to permit a start. The big electric headlight brilliantly illuminated the street as the car moved rapidly along, and the old street car mules stood by, gazing at the intruder with ears thrown forward as much as to say, "Where do we get off." When the motorman turned the electricity on a great cheer went up from the pleased and excited hundreds.

A HUNTER'S PARADISE.

The real sportsman who shoots his powder at big game should go to Yarapin county. Up there John McCarty deposited six bear scalps and four mountain lion scalps with the clerk of the Board of Supervisors, for which he will receive $160. The lions and four of the bears were all killed within two miles of Mrs. Jackson's residence, on Oak Creek. Two of the bears and one lion were caught in a trap in her sweet potato patch. Two of the bears were killed on Clear Creek, about five miles southeast of Camp Verde. Mr. McCarty left today for the vicinity of Cienega, where bears and lions are reported to have killed a large number of calves and colts, and hopes to make a big killing of animals there.

When military escorts have no common enemy they fight among themselves. On the Boundary Survey three lively occasions befell the camp. Once a colored soldier was hunting for his gun to annihilate about everybody connected with the expedition; on another occasion a colored infantry man beat a Chinese cook, and the third time the white sergeant in charge of the cavalry promptly shot twice at a trooper who made some slight remark about the danger of sticking revolvirs promiscuously in the face of other people.

Laborers Supplanting the Chinese

General Notes.

There are now more than two hundred white laborers engaged in picking raisin grapes in this valley, the Chinese having been almost allogether supplanted by the whites, who have gone into the vineyards upon the same wages, as a rule, as paid the Mongo-lians. The latter are still leaving this city in considerable numbers, a few for Los Angeles, San Francisco, China, for the Eastern States, every day. The fact that more warrants for their arrest are expected daily keeps them alarmed, and many who are not going are still in hiding.

You have heard physicians and scientific people say that there is nothing so good for checking colds, coughs, weaknesses and sudden sickness as whiskey, and that whiskey should, first of all, be pure. There is no whiskey known to the world that possesses the superior medicinal qualities of Duffy's Pure Mait. It has been used universally for years. It is the most popular whiskey known to the world today. Insist upon your druggist or grocer giving you Duf-fy's. Send for pamphlet to DUFFY MALT WHISKEY CO., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

Two heavily loaded passenger trains started from La Grande station at 5:15 last evening for the East by the Santa Fe route, the first overland trains to leave Los Angeles since last Thursday morning. The morning train of the 28th and the two trains the day before were all laid up somewhere between washout of the Atlantic and Pacific tracks. Word was received here yestracks. Word was received the control of the contro sary to start the overland trains yes erday as the $65 rate expired at midnight, and the tickets of the passen-gers would have been void unless their journey was begun before the time for Journey was begun before the time for the rate to go up. Most of the pas-sengers westbound on the trains that were detained on the other side of the washout were turned over to the South-ern Pacific, and carried through by the central route, some of them arriving yesterday. No particulars as to the ex-tent of the damage have yet been re-ceived here, but it must have been great, judging by the time required for making repairs. making repairs

CANADIAN RAILROADS. To build and equip the 1200 miles of the Intercolonial Railway from Quebec the Intercolonal Railway from Quebec to Halifax and Cape Breton, that iron thread strung through Eastern Quebec and the Maritime Provinces of the Atlantic, has cost Canada up to date in capital expenditure $53,949,963, besides the net deficit so far in running expenses of $4566,427, and exclusive of the loss of interest on both capital and deficits. It is therefore extremely gratifying to the government party that a surplus, no matter how small, has again been reached, says the New York Times. The following is the annual record of the road since it was first opened as a through line from the Atlantic to the West, showing the surplus or the loss on earnings, as compared purely with the working expenses, not taking into account at all the interest on the cost of the road of the new expenditure in construction Halifax and Cape Breton, that iron the interest on the cost of the road of the new expenditure in construction and on a considerable proportion of re-pairs. During this time the road has increased from 714 miles to 1154 in length. From 1876 to 1880 the deficits aggregated $1,752,768. From 1889 to 1884 there were slight surpluses, totaling only $27,675, making a net loss for the cight years of $1,725,093. Take the earnings and working ex-

Take the earnings and working expenses of the Canadian Pacific Railway. While that road has some great advantages over the Intercolonial, it has also some great disadvantages—its hundreds of miles of barren territory north of Lake Superior and its tremendous Rocky Mountain stretches. Now the Canadian Pacific Railway's earnings last year, on a length of 5767 miles, were $21,409.351, and its working oxpenses $12,989,004, leaving a surplus miles, were $21,409,351, and its working expenses $12,989,004, leaving a surplus of $8,420,347 to pay interest charges, new construction, and dividends. Thus, though the Canadian Pacific Railway is five times the length of the Intercolonial, its working expenses are but four times as great, while its earnings are seven times as large.

STATION AGENTS' SALARIES. (Chicago Herald:) The Railway Agents' Association has begun an attempt to rearrange station agents aries. The association does not be-lieve in strikes, and will make no at-tempt to secure their wish other than by argument. One plan proposed is to make the rearrangement at no greater make the rearrangement at no greater cost to the railroads than at present. In brief, it proposes to classify the stations, paying a higher or lower amount to the agent in each class as his station has made more or less money. It his way the amounts the stations cost the railroads would be no higher, but the agents, by various economies, could increase the amount they earn, and probably do their work much better. No one class of employees is more important than station agents, as in the majority of small towns the road is judged by its local representative. Their salaries are small, considering the responsibilities, and a proposition from them which involves no cost to the roads is well worth consideration.

SCRAP HEAP.

Owing to the temporary obstruction of the Atlantic and Pacific road, at the scene of the washout, the daily hegira of tramps by the trainload has been interrupted. First-class passenger trains have the right-of-way over the freights, and even they have not made through trips recently.

(San Diego Union, Saturday.) Under the direction of Electrician Pinkham a new submarine cable of 500 rolts capacity was laid yesterday beneath the bay for the purpose of supplying electricity from the power-house for the new electric road soon to be inaugurated on Orange avenue, Coronado, in place of the present steam motor. The cable was unwound from a huge spool stationed on a lighter in tow of the tug Santa Fe, and about three thousand feet of the big strand was required to reach from the ferry slip on the San Diego side to a point beside the ferry slip on the Coronado side of the bay.

[SOCIAL RECORD.] IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

The reception and musicale given last Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. Gardner Cogswell, No. 11:3 South Flower street, to their pupil, Miss Alice Coleman, was very enjoyable. The rooms were neatly decorated, and were rooms were neatly decorated, and were filled by nearly one hundred music-loving guests. Miss Coleman was, of course, the recipient of much of the social attention.

The musical numbers of the evening were as follows:

Vocal solo, "Happy Day"—Miss Coleman, with violin obligato by Mr. Clark.

Mr. Petersilea's methods are quite original. He first played a Mozart sonato, after which he dissected it by themes and motives, taking up the different movements and proceeding with a minute which he dissected he by the themes and motives, taking up the different movements and proceeding with a minute analysis of the entire composition. He then sang Schubert's song, analyzing that in the same way. Another of Mozart's sonatos was played, with a view to questioning the pupils upon it dosely. It proved a very instructive afternoon. On Wednesday afternoon two of Beethoven's sonatos will be analyzed.

DANDRUFF FOR TEN YEARS.

After using one bottle of Smith's Dandruff Pomade, I am pleased to state that I am entirely cured of dandruff, with which I was troubled for ten years. I have paid out dollar after dollar for remedies recommended to me, but without any permanent effect, and your remedy is the only one that has perfected a cure. I found more benefit from three applications of your remedy than all others combined. I cheerfully recommend it to all having trouble with dandruff, regardless of how many years standing. Dress Goods.

We have opened up the handsomest line of Silks, Velvets and Dress Goods we have ever possessed—larger in quantity than any three seasons preceding together; the finest in quality and less in price than we have ever sold Dress Goods heretofore by fully 10 per cent. You may have heard it remarked that the PEOPLE'S STOKE is fast gaining the finest trade in town; that they changed the character of their wares in every department, and are now handchanged the character of their wares in every department, and are now hand-ling only the best of everything, which recommends itself in quality and price. In our center aisle you will find all the imported Dress Goods from 50c a yard on to $8 and $4—all our Silks and Velup to $3 and $4—all our Silks and Velvets, Broadcloths and Cloakings. At the Domestic counter, where our Wash

Goods are sold in summer, you will find the Domestic goods ranging in price from 25c to 49c a yard. At our Domestic Dress Goods Department on Monday we will sell a special line of Henriettas at 45c a yard that ordinarily commands 65c. They are the standard goods that you buy every day, and it means a saving of 20c a yard.

At our center aisle Dress Goods Department you will find a line of Scotch Cheviots and fancy weave Dress Goods

similar in design to patterns that we have at $2 a yard; they were bought to sell at 65c, but we have consisted to make a leader of them for Monday at 45c. Likewise with a line of 54-inch Knotted Scotch Cheviots. These goods were intended to be sold at $1.25 a yard, but we will make a special to induce you to purchase on Monday at 70c. Think of 54-inch all-wool Novelty Dress Goods, new this season, not in the house ten days, at 70c a yard.

Over 150 pieces of Fancy Novelty Dress Goods, in all sorts of effects, all-wool and double fold, 36 to 40 inch wide, have not been in the house three days, will be offered to you at 50c a yard, including Hop Sackings, Worsteds, Fancy Storm Serges and all the new novelty weaves of the season.

Our force of sales men are instructed to show you the goods and to give you samples of anything that you may want, and not to importune you to buy. We rely entirely for our sales upon the merits of our goods, the beauty of our styles and the low price at which we sell them.

Shoes.

We would esteem it a favor to have you come into our shoe department and see the class of both ladies', children's see the class of both ladies', children's and gents' shoes that we are now carrying. They are the very best that money can purchase and sell at a ratio far less than an inferior article elsewhere. Our ladies' fine shoes range in price from $8 to $7.50 a pair. It has been our experience of late that ladies who have accepted our invitation to step into our Shoes, are so delighted with the styles shoes, are so delighted with the styles shoes, are so delighted with the styles that we are showing that they have made a purchase, not intending at the time to do so. We wish to impress it forcibly upon your minds that we are carrying the finest class of footwear manufactured. We take pleasure in showing them; we do not ask you to purchase, you will do so when you need a chase—you will do so when you need a pair, simply to look at them and have it generally known that we are carry-ing the finest class of footwear in Los Angeles. In the past the line that we carried was only medium, and in some instances did not give satisfaction; but instances did not give satisfaction; but we have thrown out all these goods and, as stated before, are only carrying the very best. We ask a reasonable price for them, which you will find less than any shoers in town; we guarantee them to wear and give perfect satisfaction, or else we stand behind them to refund you your money. The fact that we have only recently put in this class of Shoes makes it a little The fact that we have only recently put in this class of Shoes makes it a little more difficult for us to sell them as rapidly as we wish, and to that end we invite you to come in and see the Shoes, and leave it to you to do the rest. Every day we are showing our gentlemen friends Shoes which they cannot help but admire, for they are the finest manufactured in the world. They range in price from $3 to $7.50 a pair. There is no one that can show you as stylish or as well made a shoe as we can, and when we take a pair out of our fixtures and well made a shoe as we can, and when we take a pair out of our fixtures and lay them before you it is done with a feeling of pride that no where in this town can you find its equal. The shoe men have complimented us upon our wear. Our stock is composed of the greatest variety of noveltles carried in Los Angeles. We feel confident that if the gentiemen would only come in and look at them that they would increase our sales largely, and encourage us in the good work that we have commenced in placing the very finest footwear before the public at the most reasonable prices.

Millinery,

Our Opening, our Milliner and our Department have been three separate and distinct successes. The praise that we have received for our Hats, our styles, the department, and the class of patrons that have visited us is more than we had anticipated. We have been told that we have shown the most stylish and reasonable Hats that Los Angeles has ever seen. There can be Angeles has ever seen. There can be no question about the work, the style, finish and detail being first-class in every particular. The idea of our goods being high priced is not tenable, as we sell all our Hats at just what the material cost us to make up, and they are sold with the same ratio of profit as every other department in the house. You can see a pattern hat in stock marked at the same ratio of particular to the same ratio. You can see a pattern hat in stock marked at $25, and you can have the same idea cop-ied in cheaper materials at $8, or ied in cheaper materials at $8, or in a similar proportion. No matter what the price may be, the hat turned out will be found to be stylish and becoming, and if not we do not expect you to take it. We are here to suit all classes of trade. We have materials for the very finest as well as the most ordinary. There is one thing that cannot be gainsaid, and that is that our department is the finest in the Start I. not be gainsaid, and that is that our de-partment is the finest in the State. If you want to buy untrimmed hats, or materials for trimming them yourself, you will find our prices for the goods much lower than you can buy anywhere else in town. We assure you that we do not ask any more profit on a hat in the Millinery Department than we do on a yard of ribbon or a yard of dress goods in those departments. We shall be pleased to have you come in, try our hats and leave your orders, assuring you perfect satisfaction in assuring you perfect satisfaction in every instance. We will treat you with the utmost liberality, take the greatest pains to please you, and in every way serve to merit your patronage. More we cannot do. We are making a More we cannot do. We are making a special feature of Mourning and Chilidren's Hats; these we make up at any price and style that you are willing to

Silks.

Last season it was universally re-marked that we had the handsomest collection of Novelty Silks in Los Anmarked that we had the handsomest collection of Novelty Silks in Los Angeles. This fall we have eclipsed all previous efforts, and the qualities, for the price, will appeal to you at once that we are entitled to your patronage. We have a line of Colored Bengalines in street and evening shades at 65c that it would be hard to match elsewhere under $1.

In Novelty Silks in the latest patterns on the Satin Duchess surface order, we can show you a complete line at $1 a yard and $1.10 a yard that we had to get last season $1.50 for.

At $1.25 we are showing novelty Brocades, Jacquards and fancy weave changeable effects in high novelties that always command $1.75.

At $1.50 we are showing a line of the new Russian colorings, all-silk fancy fabrics in gold and cream. You will find this low-priced at even $2. They come in satin surface on the new Duchess order and in handsome street shades.

At $2 a yard we are showing a magnificent collection of changeable stripe hald and corded effects. Jacquard Tafe.

In solid colors, black and street shades we are showing Bengalines, Crystals, Rhadames, Duchess, Poi du Soies, black corded Armures, Failles, Satin Duchess, Taffetas, Moires, and gros grains, satin and brocades, that are from $1 to $3 a yard, the qualities at every price being a bargain.

This season when cash was very scarce with most merchants, we went into the market with a big sack of twenty-dollar gold pieces and dictated our own terms to mannfacturers, who were short of that article. The largest manufacturing concerns in the United States were obliged to throw their products at auction or seek through private channels for persons who had the ready cash to relieve them of their hardpressed needs for coin. We have, a pressed needs for coin. We have, a standing reputation in the New York market as being possessed of that ar-ticle at all times and ready to take adticle at all times and ready to take advantage of everything at a price for spot cash. In looking through our silks, velvets and dress goods vou do so from the immunity of purchasing unless you feel so disposed. We stand ready and willing to exchange any of our dress fabrics and refund the money if you find that you can do better or as well elsewhere. We want to impress upon the minds of our readers that we guarantee the color, the wear and the quality of every yard of silk, velvet or dress goods that we sell, and if they do not turn out in every respect to be as not turn out in every respect to be as represented, upon the return of the goods your money awaits you without question.

Black Goods.

We have just received twenty pieces of celebrated Priestley's black fancy novelties in figures and stripes, 40 to 44 inches wide, in qualities which sell from $1.50 to $2 a yard, in the regu-lar way. We have put these all on the counter for Monday as a special drive at $1 per yard.
We are also showing a line of Priestley's high-class novelties at $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75 a yard, for goods that are worth, at the very lowest, 50c a yard more than the prices we ask. At $2 a yard we are showing Priestley's finest black silk and wool novelties 50 inches wide, quality that sells all over the United States at $3; this is done to induce the finer class of wearers of black dress goods to give us an oppor-tunity to show you the largest stock of black dress goods and the finest in Los Angeles.
